São Paulo State boasts one of the most significant green belts, holding the distinction of being the leading producer of several commodities, such as sugar cane, citrus, vegetables, eggs, cellulose, latex, avocado, and guava in Brazil.

An immersive experience in Agribusiness

The core of the AGRI CAMP Program is the further introduction of regional agriculture, providing visits to farms, crops, and agricultural institutions.

In addition, the program will serve as a creative and advanced opportunity for establishing new connections, promoting the innovative potential of students, young professionals, and agri-entrepreneurs in professional skills, and acquire international experience.

Ready, set and Get Inspired

- Innovation in Agribusiness;
- Inspiration for new businesses, researches and techniques;
- Networking with Brazilian agri professionals; and
